

VELUX FONDEN

The application must contain:

A project description that explains the following aspects:

- Which of the programs of the VELUX FOUNDATION support the aim of the project.
- What is the purpose of the project in the short and long term.
- Which marine environmental challenges will the results of the project contribute too.
- A detailed description of the work programs.
- An overview of project partners and project manager.
- An overview of steering groups/advisory groups related to the project.
- An overview of similar initiatives within the proposed research area.
- An analysis of possible risks during the project period.
- A plan for how the project will communicate project results to relevant stakeholders and decision-makers, to contribute to an ecosystem approach to preserving/restoring marine ecosystems.

A budget that is structured in relation to year and activities (see budget guidance).

CV of project manager (max 5 pages) and key employees (max 1 page per person).

An exit strategy incl. clarification on how you expect the project results to gain relevance and live on after project completion.

A proposal for three impartial external experts (preferably international experts) who can assess your application.

Short abstract of the project.

The application must be a maximum of 10 pages.